The drawing is a detailed cross-section of a window frame assembly. It shows the relationship between the external wall, the window frame, and the internal structure. Key dimensions are highlighted with colored lines and text: a total external width of 1370 mm (rustic width), an internal width of 1170 mm (architectural width), and 90 mm side offsets. A vertical dimension of 480 mm indicates the projection of the sill. The frame is shown in a light blue hatched pattern, and the internal structure includes a central pane and side panels. The drawing is labeled 'ESTERNO' (External) in red at the top left.
